Using Online Job Applications

Applying for a job and encountering an unfamiliar experience? When you submit an application online, your materials are first read by a computer program.

In this webinar, participants will learn how to customize resumes with the right keywords. They also will explore the various file formats that applicant tracking systems read best, receive tips on how to effectively set up resumes, and get a glimpse of how recruiters use and rate resumes as they go about their work. Questions are encouraged.

Webinar
